United Church School Elects Officers for 1934

A meeting of the Teachers and Officers of the Arrowwood United Church School was held on January 20th for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The following were elected to office:

Superintendent — Mrs. McCann.
Associate Superintendent — Cradle Roll Supt. — Mrs. R. Moir.

Pianist — June Clifgard.
Assistant Pianist — Hazel Taylor and Wills Leith.

Sec.-Treas. — Wills Leith, Associate Sec.-Treas. — Irwin Scott and Millicent Taylor.

Teachers: Primary — Mary Thompson. Assistant, Mrs. McCann.

Junior Class — Miss Spencer, assistant, Hazel Taylor.

Intermediate Girls' Class — Miss Andrews; assistant, June Clifgard.

Boys' Class — Mr. John Williams, assistant, Mr. Ross.

Adult Class — Rev. V. M. Gilbert.

As Mrs. Phillips has resigned the office of Secretary-Treasurer and pianist, a vote of thanks was extended to her in appreciation of the work done during the past year. A discussion on different methods and work in the school took place, which it is hoped will prove of benefit to the school.

Hockey Notes

League 2-Arrowwood 2

Playing a return game with the Cardinals, the Langdon and the local teams fought to the end of an overtime game to break a 2-2 tie.

In the first period Barrows scored for Langdon, picking the puck up in front of the Arrowwood net.

The second period was scoreless. In the last minute of play of the third period McCullough received a perfect pass from Norton and scored to tie up the game, 1-1.

In the over time R. Leslie and Craig scored to make the final count 2-2.

The game was very interesting. Due to illness Hansen replaced Sharpe in goal and F. Mason was replaced by Oliver on account of an injured wrist.

Langdon — Kernham (goal), Craig, Scott, McNeil, Clayton, McMillan, Barrows, Payne and Webb.

Cardinals — Hansen, C. Beagle, E. Mason, H. McCullough, F. Mason, Norton, J. Leslie, R. Leslie, S. Beagle, Oliver.

Referee — R. E. Hales.

Buffalo Hill News

The marriage took place at Gleichen on Wednesday, Jan. 24th of Miss Helen McInenly, daughter of the late D. and Mrs. Mrs. McInenly, of Arrowwood, to Mr. Harold Williams, son of Mr. C. Williams, of Arrowwood. Immediately after the ceremony young couple left for Calgary, where they visited until Sunday. It is understood they will reside on the Gaylon Jones farm. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have the hearty congratulations of their many friends in the district.

Mr. J. K. Goldthorpe had the misfortune to lose five calves in the storm last week.

To the Bow Valley Resource: Please cancel my advertisement, "For sale, two Tainworth sows," as they were sold the day after the issue of the paper and further inquiries in addition. A. E. Starling.

Mrs. Claude Broderick visited at the home of Mrs. Jenniejohn last week-end, renewing old acquaintances.

A shower and card party, in honor of Miss Helen McInenly, was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hansen, at which there were over a hundred present and a very enjoyable time was spent.

The sale of horses, cattle, etc., of J. K. Goldthorpe will be held on Wed. Feb. 7th, at 1 o'clock, on his farm, about ten miles south of Arrowwood, being two miles east and two miles south of the Buffalo Hill School.

The Misses Teresa and Elsie McInenly left on Tuesday for Trochu, where they will visit with friends and relatives.

Mr. Dave Lewis had the misfortune to lose one of his horses in last week's storm.

A wedding dinner was held at the home of Mrs. M. McInenly on Sunday, Jan. 28th, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams, when about thirty friends and relatives were present. After dinner an inspection was made of the many gifts of which this popular young bride was the recipient.

Queenstown Items

The annual meeting of the Queenstown United Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Cunn on Thursday, Jan. 25th. The election of officers for this year were: President, Mrs. J. McLaughlin; Vice-Pres., Mrs. W. F. Mallett; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. C. Lund.

It would be greatly appreciated if the person who lifted a watch off the table in the kitchen of the Shouldice Hall on Friday, Jan. 26th, would return the same to Miss D. Mallett, as she valued it very much as a keepsake.

Lloyd Clemons is getting along as well as can be expected. But will be confined to bed for quite a few weeks yet.

The Jr. U.F.A. meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mallett on Jan. 27th was well attended. Mrs. McBride and Mrs. Steve Williams gave very interesting reports on the Convention at Edmonton. The putting on of a play was discussed. The meeting closed by singing songs, after which the hostess served lunch.

East Milo News

The last meeting of the East Milo Juniors was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burk. 28 members answered the Roll Call. After the business of the meeting, a practice of the two-hour play, "Poor Father," was held. The Local will stage this play in the J.O.O.F. Hall in Milo on Friday, Feb. 23rd. At midnight Mrs. Burk served a dainty lunch. The meeting was adjourned by the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

The dance held at Liberty School on Friday, Jan. 19th was well attended, and everyone had a good time.

On Saturday, Jan. 20, a number of the farmers of the district attended the Massey-Harris Hammer Mill demonstration at George Heath's.

The East Milo Juniors will hold their next meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Deitz, on Feb. 3rd.

There will be a joint meeting of the U.F.A., U.F.W.A. and Jr. U.F.A. in Pioneer School on Friday evening. Delegates to the recent U.F.A. convention will give their reports.

Miss Shirley McInenly returned to Brooks on Sunday after visiting at her home here for a few days.

The next meeting of the U.F.W.A. will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Beagle on Wednesday, Feb. 7th.

Mr. Chris. McElvaine returned last week from Brantford, Ont., where he has been visiting for the last two months.

Mrs. W. A. Hill returned to her home at Strone on Tuesday after visiting for a month with Mrs. G. Leith.

LOST—On Monday evening, between Gleichen and Arrowwood, a 36x4 tire chain. Finder please return to Larsen Implements.

Mr. C. Journey received the sad news that his father, W. H. Journey had passed away. The funeral service will be held tomorrow at Vulcan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Archambault returned on Friday from Taber, where they had been visiting Mrs. Archambault's parents.

Mrs. R. B. Williams entertained the Executive of the U. F. W. A. at dinner on Tuesday. Programs for the year were completed and will be published later.

The Arrowwood Community Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Shouldice on February 6. Roll Call: A suggestion for a Valentine Party. In addition to the regular business a paper will be given on "Valentine" and a contest.

Mr. Jack Beagle returned on Sunday from Lethbridge where he had taken his mother, Mrs. Beagle, who will visit with her brother for some time.

A joint meeting of the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. was held in the Ingram Bldg. last night when the delegates' reports of the convention were received. A report will be published next week.

A public meeting will be held in the Ingram Bldg. on Monday, Feb. 5th, at 7 p.m., to discuss the affairs of the Village. As Mr. Jack Beagle's term of office has expired nominations will be received for Councillor.

Miss E. Jonnejohn and Miss L. Spencer spent Saturday in Calgary.

Master Larry Mackie, of Carseland, is visiting in Arrowwood with his Grandparents.

Mrs. McCann and son Bill returned yesterday from Vulcan where they had been visiting with relatives since Sunday.

The annual meeting of the congregation of the Arrowwood United Church will be held tonight (Thursday) in the Ingram Building.

As evidence that spring will soon be here, the Larsen Implements sold and delivered a tractor to Plant Bros., east of Gleichen, last Monday.

A miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Harold Williams (nee Helen McInenly), was held at the home of Mrs. F. Hall last Monday evening.

A number of the hockey enthusiasts attend the game at Gleichen between the Gunners and the Vulcan Elks on Monday night. The Gunners won 4-2.

Patronize your home Hatchery. Book your orders now for Pure Bred Chicks. March price per hundred—$10.00, 2c per chick deposit. Apply J. L. Brubaker.

The many friends of T. J. Barr are pleased to see him around again, after his long lay up. The smiling Mr. Barr was shaking hands with a host of friends in Arrowwood last Saturday. He claims he is feeling as fit as a fiddle.

The Arrowwood Bonspiel came to sudden standstill last Thursday owing to the moderation in temperature. The curlers are eagerly waiting for a tightening-up of the weather in order to complete the events, which could be easily done in two days. Caretaker Jay Beagle has lost no opportunity to improve the sheets, having flooded the ice a number of times, but it has been so warm that what was gained at night was lost by day.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart. Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad. Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money, but she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Other than this story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's mother, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. Warn the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue their party. Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Avis is stunned and Camilla's mother likewise.

(Now Go On With The Story.)

CHAPTER XXVII

Camilla's unshaken faith in Peter and her quiet resignation to any opinion or ultimatum, had mollified Mrs. Hoyt, somewhat. She did not disown her as a daughter or command her to leave the Hoyt household, but Camilla decided for herself that it would be the wiser course. She consulted with Rose about renting a small apartment at once.

"I have enough to live on for a few weeks, and I'll surely find work soon," she explained. She had met Rose downtown for the lunch hour and they were facing each other across a little onyx-topped table in a tearoom, when she told Rose about her marriage to Peter.

"So you're married?" Rose had reproached her. "That's no way to go into business—or marriage, either. You don't know what you are or what you want. Get old, if I had your chance to be somebody—talent like you've got and a sweet education—I wouldn't look at a man."

"As soon as I get work, Rose, I'll help you to go to night school for that secretarial course." Camilla promised generously.

"That's what I want, all right. And you won't see me hitching up to drag a truck after me, just when I get in form, either. Single harness for me."

HEALTH MEANS CHARM AND HAPPINESS

Sparkling eyes and smiling lips speak of health and vitality. Clear skin attracts. The beautiful girl is both happy and popular.

Perhaps you are not really ill yet, when the day's work does you are too tired to enter into the good times that other women enjoy for extra money.

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It tones up your general health. Gives you more pep—more charm.

and a light, fancy lead behind that is mostly myself."

"You will forget all those resolutions if you ever fall in love, Rose," Camilla smiled kindly, with her own wisdom.

Rose waved the suggestion aside with a flourish of her fork. "I don't believe in that kind of love anymore than I believe there's a Santa Claus. That says why do you want to live with me, now? Why don't you go and live with your husband, now that the secret is out?"

"Whether or not it's a secret, has nothing to do with that, and I agreed to live apart until he is able to take care of me. That may be for a long time yet."

"That's goofy. I'll say. Why wouldn't it be better for you to shuffle your incomes and go fifty-fifty? Plenty of couples do that and manage to get along."

"And plenty of them don't." No, Rose, when a girl gives her best to her work for a salary and tries to keep house, she has to let down on one of them. Naturally, it's the housekeeping. As a wife, she fails; or at least, home becomes so unpleasant that the man and woman get to thinking it is each other they hate. No, until Peter can take care of me, when he sees that I will be my best. We shall only be together for pleasure, just as if we were lovers. That way, we always shall be lovers, and our happiness will be saved for the future."

"Oh, I see," laughed Rose, "you prefer being an occasional wife—something like it is the way it is. Camilla and tables they advertise to have around the house for extra use. They're there, ready to be used whenever they're needed. Handy that way, all right."

For an instant, Camilla reread her sister's comparison, then she smiled. "I'll add to the metaphor. The occasional chair is not used so much as the old armchair and is treated with more respect. It is the guest chair. That is what I shall be to Peter—his guest-wife."

"Well, it's all right to be a guest and sit in a bright new occasional chair for an evening, but you sure do like to get home again and slouch down in the old armchair that knows every crook and turn of your disposition, even if it is worn to threads on the arms and your knees have rested when you're tired."

Camilla was delighted with Rose's sudden burst of droll philosophy. How wise she was, in spite of her light education and training. She would make a shrewd business woman without a doubt, and Camilla resolved that she would acquire the necessary, to assure her more training for the position of which she was capable.

doorway, grinning broadly. "Oh, hello!" he exclaimed. "Come in."

Gus snarled into the room. "Quite a surprise to see me?"

"Yeah. Where have you been all summer?"

"Oh, around. Didn't think you would see me," he dropped into a chair and glanced up surreptitiously.

"That's all over," Peter dismissed the past. "Sorry you made a fool of yourself."

"Hain't a fellow a right to make love to a girl if he wants to?"

"Sure. But that's not what I mean, and you know it."

"Oh, well, all's fair in—"

"That was neither," Peter interrupted him sternly.

"Oh, yeah? Gonna start bossin' me again?"

"I should say not. I wouldn't consider the job again. Is that what you came here for, to offer me a chance to be your guardian again?"

"No— and yes. Part is, I'm up against it, and I wondered if you could help me a little, Peter, you always were a good scout. I have some work premiated after next month, but I gotta eat until then."

"While you finish your piece for the exhibit?"

"Exactly? Who said I was working for the exhibit?"

"Aren't you?" surprised.

"No. Are you?"

"Why, d'you suppose I'm crazy enough to think I have a chance to win anything you enter?"

"I don't know, why not. Besides, it brings your work to the attention of the right people. That's the reason I'm entering. I'd like to win, of course, but I don't expect to."

Students From Many Lands

Students from nearly every country in the world are studying at McGill University this year.

The United States furnished the largest group with undergraduates from 25 states.

Other countries represented include the British Isles, India, Rhodesia, British Guiana, Australia, Newfoundland, Bermuda, the British West Indies, France, Spain, Switzerland, Germany, China, South America, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and Cuba.

Unusual Situation In China

Women Gain Prominence And Are Crowding Men Out

Women, from singing girls to university professors, are so much in the news in China that they are crowding the men out of the picture. The Chinese, long accustomed to keeping their women behind the closed door, now find them behind the bars in the open. At dinner parties, balls, theatricals, sports events and all public adult social functions Chinese women are very much in evidence.

General Han Fu-chi, Governor of Shantung, who is a militarist of the old school, is a convert. On a recent visit to Peking he complained bitterly because officials here spent so much time in the company of women.

But on his last inspection tour of his own province he was accompanied by two women propagandists. In all the cities and towns he visited he turned the women loose to tell their sisters to hob nob with men and bind their feet.

The increasing prominence of women in the news has revived the ancient Chinese legend of a land inhabited entirely by women. Research indicates that the land referred to in the tale was meant to be the Kurile Islands. The yarn has it that in the old days the Kuriles were inhabited by fisher-women who knew nothing about men.

Little Helps For This Week

I pray not that Thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that Thou shouldst keep them from the evil.—John 17:15.

In busy mart and crowded street, No less than in the still retreat, Thy Lord art near our souls to bless.

With all a Father's tenderness, Only the individual conscience, And He is greater than the conscience, can tell where weakness prevails. Each heart must answer for itself, and at its own risk. That our souls are committed to our own keeping, at our own peril in a world so mixed as this, is the last reason we should slumber over the charge or betray the trust. If only that outlet to the Infinite is kept open, the inner bond with eternal life preserved, while not one movement of this world's business is interfered with nor one beat of its happiness repressed, with all natural associations dear and cherished, with all human sympathies dear and warm, we shall yet be near the kingdom of heaven.

In the world, but not of it, not taken out of it but kept from its evil.—H. W. H.

Believes Explorer, Alve

Albert De Winton, of Los Angeles, a movie actor has returned to Rio de Janeiro after a nine-month sojourn in the Mato Grosso region of interior Brazil for Col. P. H. Fawcett, British explorer. De Winton, who has made several trips into the wilds, had only vague Indian reports concerning the Briton but expressed belief he is alive. Col. Fawcett disappeared in 1925.

Unsuccessful Actor: "After my hard day the world will realize what I have done."

Comedian: "Well, don't worry about it, old chap. You will be out of harm's way then."

Striving, Scotland, will have 17 year-old police apprentices.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

ENCOUNTER

It happened, after many years, they met;

Upon them both Time's hand had worked its change.

About her eyes were shadows faintly cast,

His mouth was grim, his smile was cold and staid.

Above them towered the city street's high walls,

A hick-dog for the straggles whereon they stood.

And all about rose shrill, ear-piercing calls.

Yet none more harsh than their religious mood.

An instant thus two strangers stood and gaped.

And loathing, hand a thousand miles apart.

Then sudden love within their spirits glared.

And fused them once again, loved heart to heart!

So it will ever be between the two, Though next they meet on some sphere far and new.

Chooses Orchid As Symbol

Henry Pu-Si, who soon will be crowned as the emperor of Manchukuo, has adopted the orchid as the imperial symbol of the new movement. The orchid will be a contrast to the chrysanthemum, the symbol of the emperor of Japan. The new throne chair and other articles of the Manchukuo imperial household will be emblazoned with orchids.

Now! Ease Sore Throat Instantly!

1 Crush and dissolve 3 Aspirin Tablets in a glass of water.

2 GARGLE thoroughly—immerse your head and neck in the solution, allowing it to trickle down your throat.

3 Repeat gargle and do not stop until you feel the throat remain on membranes of the throat for prolonged effect.

Remember! Only Medicine Helps Sore Throat

Modern medical science now throws an entirely new light on sore throat. A way that cures the pain, removes it in as little as two or three minutes.

It requires medicine—like ASPIRIN—to do these things! That is why throat specialists throughout the world are prescribing this ASPIRIN gargle in place of old-time ways.

Be careful, however, that you get Aspirin Tablets for this purpose.

Aspirin is the trademark of The Bayer Company, Limited, and the Bayer Cross in the logo is on each tablet. They dissolve completely enough to gargle without leaving irritating particles.

ASPIRIN TABLETS ARE SOLD EVERYWHERE

COULD BE PUT TO A GOOD USE

The vacant building that stands just north of the Bank could be made useful as a rest room for our country friends, when they come to town and have no place to go. We suggest that this matter be investigated and ascertain if this building could be had for this purpose.

If you will be needing more power this spring and you feel you are not in a position to invest in a new tractor, come in and see what we have to offer you in a second hand machine. Do it now, don't wait until someone else has picked out the best.

The time will soon be here when you will be wanting to clean your seed grain. We handle the Viking and Bull Dog lines and believe these machines will do the job to your satisfaction, or we will rent you a cleaner at a nominal price.

A Bishop had been preaching with some feeling about the use of cosmetics by the young girls.

"The more experience I have with lipstick, declared he, warmly, "the more distasteful I find it."
